traded the great meeting of Mr. Moody in Philadelphia some years ago and made a special study of his methods. The subject has special interest to him.

The Pine Bluff Commercial of the 28th says: "We understand that our postmaster is thinking of employing additional help, owing to the fact that a certain young lady on Broadway, on a visit here from Memphis, is receiving such a large share of mail matter."

The heroine is a member of the leading choir of the city.

Services will be held at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, conducted by Mr. T. H. Rice. The line of thought will be in harmony with the purpose of the preparatory services appointed by the pastors for the present week in anticipation of the coming of Messrs. Plesner, W. J. Wilson, C. W. Mosby, O. G. Hays, J. H. Shepherd, J. M. Edwards, J. J. Murphy, Ben Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. French, C. T. French, R. G. Graver, Mrs. Carrie Rainey, H. H. Devins, S. H. Coward, D. P. Hadden, J. H. Smith, B. Hughes, Edward Paine, T. D. Eldridge, F. T. Edmondson, C. E. F. Hall, A. J. Vaughn, W. J. Vaughn, Millie Vaughn, H. Curry, W. J. P. Chapman, B. Heinkel, T. H. The record makes the suggestion that the proceeds of the Charity Ball be used in establishing a soup kitchen for the immediate relief of the needy poor. It is said: "Of course there are many who would improve upon this charity soup-house, but the percentage would be very small. It would satisfy the hunger of the starving and prevent begging. What citizen is there who would not prefer contributing to such a commendable object to having money thrown away upon the hands of the needy?" It would serve two ends—save the citizens from trouble and annoyance and the men from the humiliation of begging, with the prospect of numerous rebuffs. This suggestion is a good and a timely one. Put the money in Mr. Hadden's hands and thus give the city control of the charity.

A New York authority on grain says: "The wheat market is wholly a manipulated one, as it has been for months past. It is now manipulated by the bulls and on the bull side, instead of by the bears on the bear side, as had been the case almost without interruption for three years. The market has advanced a considerable distance, and it is emphatically a bull market. Speculative sentiment, which unduly depressed prices when it was bearish, is now bullish and growing more so, in view of the large and rapidly increasing interior milling demand, which is supported in the West only by New York prices."

THE action markets may be described as in an expectant condition, bears and bulls alike waiting for something to turn up. Speculators are buying cautiously, fearing to be caught with heavy stocks on a declining market. On the other side the same conditions seem to prevail, and the hands-to-mouth policy seems to obtain everywhere. The key to the situation lies in the South and upon her ability to refuse to dispose of the staple at lower prices than those now ruling.

The Liverpool market is a decided one. On the other side the same conditions seem to prevail, and the hands-to-mouth policy seems to obtain everywhere. The key to the situation lies in the South and upon her ability to refuse to dispose of the staple at lower prices than those now ruling.

Battle of the Petticoats.

Fierce Factional Fight Following Foolish Female Frolic.

Wild War Whoops Women Wage.

Exasperated, Excited Endeavors Each Eagerly Embraced.

Mrs. Testy—Yes, I'm glad to say that my husband is very good natured. Mrs. Crusty—And so is mine.

Mrs. Testy—But my husband never kicked over the stove. Mrs. Crusty—Are you sure of that? Mrs. Testy—Yes, I'm sure of it, but I heard your husband did.

Mrs. Crusty—Well, whoever told you that told a falsehood; besides, I'd rather my husband would kick over the stove than to kick me, like I heard a certain woman's husband did.

Mrs. Testy—Oh! you mean thing! My husband never gave me as much as a cross word in his life. Mrs. Crusty—No, and I suppose he never came home intoxicated.

Mrs. Testy—Yes, I'll admit that; but then he doesn't squander all his money and leave his family suffering for bread.

Mrs. Crusty—I can prove that my husband is not a spendthrift. Mrs. Testy—Prove it, please.

Mrs. Crusty—Why, he buys his clothes at the Misfit Parlor, 232 Second street.

Mrs. Testy—And so does mine. He says he can save money enough there on a suit and overcoat to buy coal for the entire winter.

Mrs. Crusty—That's just the remark my husband made. He said the overcoat he got there for $2 was worth $40, and the suit he paid $20 for could not have been made to sell for less than $35.

Mrs. Testy—I'm sorry, dear, that I said anything about your husband. Mrs. Crusty—Never mind, it was all my fault; but I guess we'd been quarreling yet if it hadn't been for the Misfit Parlor. Gracious! what happiness they do bring to Memphis.

Mrs. Testy—Yes, the Misfit Parlor are a real blessing. There are bargains there for rich and poor, for it sells the finest of custom-made clothing at prices which do not often represent the cost price of clothing. You get Suits, Overcoats and Pants there for half price.

N.B.—Our present stock of fine merchant tailors' suits in elegant Overcoats and Suits that we sold originally for one-half of their actual value, we are now SELLING BELOW COST to enable us to make room for the large and handsome stock of CUSTOM-MADE GARMENTS which we will receive from our agents at the opening of the
